Fulbright Student Explores Lafayette, LA

As part of the Fulbright program, Aya A. Younes learns and teaches at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette.

Originally from Alexandria, Egypt, Younes applied to the Fulbright program and traveled to Lafayette, Louisiana to pursue a graduate degree in English Language.

In the meantime, she has greatly enjoyed learning about Louisiana and its culture and participating in local festivals.

She encourages other students to take a look at all Fulbright has to offer, saying, "UL Lafayette has a lot to offer and this should reach other parts of the world. It deserves recognition and acknowledgment."

Exciting Event to Support Students: Clothing Distribution by the Leadership Communication Society!

The Leadership Communication Society (a student club of the Leadership Communication major) recently hosted an inspiring clothing distribution event at Burke Library (Room 119) on October 10 and 11! This fantastic initiative was designed to support students while fostering a sense of community within the Leadership Communication majors and the Communication Department as a whole.

“It’s a wonderful opportunity for students to connect with faculty and peers,” added Dr. Kim, a professor in the Leadership Communication major.

Join us at the Roy House on October 30th for a Fête des Monstres with Alexis Braud, local spooky author and artist!

Our event will feature trick-or-treating, spooky storytelling, haunting Louisiana lore, and featured artwork from Braud's collection. Visit us from 6 to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, October 30th for an evening not soon to be forgotten.

Don't forget about these events!
